GTWO: CORDICO® Statewide Officer Wellness App Update

WASPC Members,

I am pleased to announce that the CORDICO® App will be live on March 7, 2023.

The WASPC Officer Wellness team has been working with our partners at Lexipol to launch CORDICO, the Statewide Officer Wellness App. The App will provide on-demand access to confidential, relevant, and effective wellness information including a complete range of self-assessments and continuously updated videos, guides, and articles on more than 60 behavioral health topics. The App will also provide access to at least 35 vetted mental health professionals (MHPs), trained to work with law enforcement personnel and will allow agencies to add MHP, peer support, chaplains, and Employee Assistance Program (EAP) information. The App will include resources specific to law enforcement professionals, corrections professionals, and dispatch professionals. Active law enforcement, corrections, and dispatch professionals; retired law enforcement, corrections, and dispatch professionals; and family/household members of both active and retired law enforcement, corrections, and dispatch professionals will have access to the statewide App, using credentials for their agency. This will allow peer support and chaplain team information to be specific to each agency. Agencies will also have the ability to add agency specific resources to the App.

Each agency will have agency-wide login credentials specific to active, retired, and family/household users. These login credentials will be provided to your agency CORDICO contact following our pre-launch webinars. Your agency users can obtain these credentials from your agency (preferred), or they can contact the WASPC Officer Wellness Team.

- For law enforcement agencies, law enforcement focused information will be included for your agency. (Arlington Police Department, Fife Police Department, Cowlitz County Jail, etc.)

- For corrections agencies not housed within a law enforcement agency, corrections focused information will be included for your agency. (Benton County Corrections, Chelan County Regional Justice Center, etc.)
- For dispatch agencies not housed within a law enforcement agency, dispatch focused information will be included for your agency. (Peninsula Communications, TCOMM 911, etc.)
- For law enforcement agencies with corrections facilities and/or dispatch centers, law enforcement information will be included for your agency. ADDITIONALLY, any materials specific to corrections and/or dispatch will soon be included for your agency. (Bothell Police Department, Grant County Sheriff's Office, Skamania County Sheriff's Office, etc.)

Many agencies have provided agency specific peer support, chaplain, EAP, MHP and agency resources for inclusion in the App. Please click here to confirm that your agency has provided agency specific information or inclusion in the App. If your agency has not submitted any information, your staff will have access to the CORDICO App; however, there will not be any agency specific resources available. If your agency has not submitted any information and you would like to, please click here for instructions.

WASPC will be issuing a press release highlighting the App on March 7, 2023. We will share this information as widely as possible.

You can download the CORDICO App anytime; however, user agency credentials will not be provided to agencies until our pre-launch webinars and end to users until March 7, 2023.

In preparation for going live, we are hosting a series of webinars about the CORDICO App.

Agency command staff, peer support teams and wellness champions are invited to participate in a pre-launch webinar where a demonstration of the CORDICO App will be provided. Our partners at Lexipol will share agency onboarding ideas and engagement materials and an overview of the MHP vetting process.

- Click here to register for the February 14, 2023 (2:00 PM - 3:00 PM PST) pre-launch webinar.
- Click here to register for the February 16, 2023 (11:00 AM - 12:00 PM PST) pre-launch webinar.

Active law enforcement, corrections, and dispatch professionals; retired law enforcement, corrections, and dispatch professionals; and family/household members of both active and retired law enforcement, corrections and dispatch professionals are invited to attend a launch webinar. Launch webinars will include a demonstration of the CORDICO App, information on the MHP vetting process, and overview of anonymity (including limitations using agency issued technology).
