

NOW HIRING

CITY OF RITZVILLE

Chief of Police

POSITION SUMMARY:

The Police Chief plans, organizes, directs, and evaluates the activities of the Police Department under the direction of the Mayor. This position ensures that the protection of life and property is carried out in a just and objective manner and is underpinned through community policing. To achieve this objective, the Chief directs law enforcement activities; oversees staff schedules; and directs patrol, traffic enforcement, code enforcement, emergency response planning, and in-service training. They also work seamlessly with other City departments and adjoining jurisdictions, to include county and state agencies.

This position has managerial responsibility for the administration of the departmental budget and provides leadership in developing and implementing department sponsored programs and services. The Chief develops and maintains strong working relationships with elected officials, the public, the media, social service agencies, the court system, and other law enforcement agencies.

SCOPE OF WORK:

The Chief directly reports to an elected Mayor. All police department employees report to the Chief. The Chief is expected to develop and maintain positive relationships with all City employees to achieve common goals that best serve the residents of Ritzville. This position requires both administrative and patrol experience. The Chief works in the office, as well as on the street providing patrol service and conducting criminal investigations. This position is FLSA exempt.

City Information:

Ritzville is located at the intersection of Interstate 90 and U.S. Highway 395 in Eastern Washington in the heart of wheat country. The City's website is available at www.cityofritzville.com.

Ritzville, with a population of 1775, is a growing municipal jurisdiction in Adams County, Washington. The municipal government is a Mayor/Council form of government with elected council members and an elected mayor. Mayor Scott Yaeger was elected in November of 2023 and has served 18 years on the City Council. Ritzville boasts a supportive and collaborative work atmosphere between the administrative and legislative bodies and efforts are being made to ensure a seamless executive transition.

Ritzville's core government services include the Administrative Clerk's Office, the Police Department, and Public Works (including Water, Sewer, Street Maintenance, and the Cemetery).

The Ritzville Police Department offers a unique and rare opportunity for a conscientious community-minded individual looking to continue to uphold our high standards of community relations. The Police Department operates out of a separate facility from City Hall and is dispatched by the Adams County Sheriff's Office. The department enjoys a positive and cooperative working relationship with all surrounding local, state, and federal agencies.
