Principles for Community Trust

WASPC advocates for public safety improvements that make everyone safer, including law enforcement.

- Perceptions of Law Enforcement: Law enforcement remains one of the most respected professions in Washington. Retaining and improving public trust is top priority for WASPC. We take seriously concerns about police interactions with the community and continuously work to improve our policies, training, culture and transparency. There is a lack of understanding that the men and women who swear an oath to uphold public safety are required to face violent and chaotic situations. We accept that responsibility while we also ask individuals to take responsibility for their own actions, for policy makers and elected officials to bring our communities together and for all of us to work together for common solutions.
- Rule of Law: WASPC strongly urges elected policy makers to create laws that are clear, supported, and can be consistently enforced. Disagreements or different applications of laws based on political expediency or policy makers' unwillingness to make difficult decisions leads to reduced trust in the rule of law and is harmful to public safety and public trust.
- Deadly Force: WASPC has worked with advocates and community groups to remove "malice" from the legal standard, to come together and build trust. We will continue to work to improve training, focus on de-escalation, and provide transparency. We also expect the community to take responsibility for supporting law enforcement in the split-second decisions required, and to reinforce that reducing officer-involved deadly force incidents will be enhanced by not attacking or fighting with law enforcement. De-escalation is for everyone. We strongly support the following “Tips for Safety” from the Washington State American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU):

STAY CALM AND STAY PUT. Don’t run or suddenly move.

KEEP YOUR HANDS where the officer can see them and free of any objects if possible.

NEVER TOUCH any police officer.

FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS. You can always make a complaint later if you feel your rights were violated.

- Criminal Justice Reform: WASPC acknowledges that implicit and institutional bias and discrimination exist in all aspects of society: criminal justice, education, housing, health care, finance, and more. We will work in concert with policy makers and others to make systemic improvements to understand, reduce and control the implicit and institutional biases and barriers that inhibit every person’s success. Reform in the criminal justice system should be based on public safety outcomes and should not ignore concern for law enforcement, victims of crime, and justice. Assisting offenders with re-entry and reducing recidivism is good for public safety. Achievement of these goals are worth our state’s investment of time, money, and resources.
- Behavioral Health: WASPC strongly urges our policy makers to fund and support a robust, “wrap-around” system for those with serious and untreated mental and behavioral health problems. WASPC does not believe that further placement into the community and overall reductions of institutions for those with most serious illnesses is good policy. Placing people with serious health issues out onto the street is not compassionate and can result in increased calls for service, and potential violent interactions with the public and law enforcement.
- Homelessness: WASPC supports a comprehensive approach to homelessness. There are many complex dynamics that contribute to the issue. Criminal transients and those who willingly commit crimes should be prosecuted within the law. They are not in the same category as homeless persons, including those with behavioral health problems and addictions, who need and will accept help. We urge policy makers to delineate between these two groups and solutions should recognize their differences.
- Basic Law Enforcement Training: Washington should fully fund the basic law enforcement academy. The surcharge on traffic tickets, which formerly funded all basic training, was redirected by the legislature into the general fund many years ago and led to long delays between when officers are hired and can be properly trained. Funding of basic training is a state responsibility.

- Public Safety Funding: Public safety is a core function of government and should be funded that way. The criminal justice system should not be reliant on revenue from citations, arrest warrants, or special funds related to sales of marijuana or gambling.
- Marijuana: WASPC acknowledges that the voters of our state made a specific decision to decriminalize marijuana. We urge policy makers to support necessary enforcement to reduce “gray market” sales, illicit juvenile consumption, and impacts on neighborhoods from illicit grows and organized crime. Regulation of marijuana should be based on public safety, not cannabis sales revenue.

Membership

WASPC membership includes Active, Associate, Affiliate and Life categories. Applications are reviewed by the WASPC Membership Committee and WASPC Executive Board, with final approval made by the WASPC Executive Board.

Management Support Services

Accreditation provides for the professionalism of the law enforcement industry by providing a review process for agencies. In 1976 the Association was directed by the Washington State Legislature to develop standards and goals for Washington State Law Enforcement. The Association has maintained an operational accreditation program since that time.

The LEMAP program provides law enforcement administrators an opportunity to have a critical review of their organization through the eyes of peer professionals. The resulting report should serve as a guide to identify areas in need of strengthening and highlight positive or innovative programs existing within the agency. A LEMAP assessment also provides interested agencies with a roadmap of information that will greatly assist them should they decide to pursue WASPC accreditation.

Peer review and outside audits are central to agency performance and continuous improvement.

WASPC intends to:

- Encourage the use of the Loaned Executive Management Assistance (LEMAP) program to members
- Remove cost as an impediment to LEMAPS and Accreditation, to encourage our members' use of these resources, through grants and partnerships with risk management pools
- Continue to inform members of the benefits of the WASPC Accreditation program
- Encourage implementation of preferred practices, model policies and procedures to further the professionalism of law enforcement and corrections
- Ensure management services programs are available to all members
- Provide executive search services as requested

Legislation

WASPC serves as the centralized point for the monitoring and influencing of law enforcement related legislation both at the state and federal level. The most effective lobbying effort utilizes the efforts of WASPC's members; however, it is recognized that there must be a coordinated effort that is accomplished by staff, both full-time and contract.

- Regularly send Executive Director newsletters to members with pertinent and timely information
- Consider how we could potentially incorporate/merge communications into a member services/outreach staff position
Possible to pull conference, social media, external informational opportunities at partner agency events/conference, etc.

Research and Planning

WASPC recognizes that there are many issues facing law enforcement executives in their respective communities. In addition to those issues that are readily apparent, there are other emerging issues that will present themselves in the future. WASPC will research these issues with its strategic partners to provide a forum for in-depth discussions and work to provide its members a response framework.

WASPC intends to:

- Schedule presentations from subject matter experts on current and emerging issues
- Continue to work with the State Department of Corrections to review changes to the current corrections system in the state.
- Develop best practice methodologies in the areas of diversion, jail operations and re-entry that serve as model policies and/or allow for cost savings on the part of cities, counties, tribal jails, the state and federal bureau of prisons. This should also include collaboration in the area of jail medical expense and jail pharmaceuticals.

- Continue to work with universities and institutions of higher learning to conduct research into contemporary law enforcement public safety issues.

State Funded Programs

WASPC provides law enforcement programs funded by the Washington State Legislature.
